

JOINS

CONSERVATIVES

[CHAP, xnr

> 71* Can devise_ It
is

as
be

!

sconsiye

impossible

to avoid ^

Ind *t

i m

c

i

e

n

t

l

y

?

o

u

t

t

h

I ^ov the ^

love d

because

e

for ever;

do I deem it

Es ablisioneBt

in tha Tc^o ry

to the population

which it will never consent

that the our

Establishment

shall e ject

save the

interests of ?J

rience has

taught nfe

except to benefit « that

great lords,

and lands and

great tithes

I the

reminiscence.

every claim of this great
 bodvtW
 prehensive tolerati of relied constitution of the tration and the m the question of Se endure that every time one the scene of contested e'ectio*<sup>a</sup> jent must be respected but S' Dissenters.

Then
 there
 are
 the claims
 of the

no t
 be

Staild
 I woul(i S?
 mt of tllé
 most
 corn-<sup>il</sup>T Wth the
 établis
 hed<sup>r^j</sup>
 think
 that
 the
 regis-
 ConCeded<sup>**</sup>
 As for
 Im<sup>p</sup>ossible
 that we can * ^ Should Present ^ of the Establi<sup>h</sup>- Sake of s<sup>tle</sup> Establishment
 f<sup>Amoved</sup>
 These are
 con-a
 numerous
 and powerful intelligence, and tE ^
 repeat ^ to their numbers, ion with the CinttancV<sup>0?ft</sup>tyj -Snd co<sup>o</sup> ^ stent, in my blessing with which I am ^ f of au Established Church a ^ * 0 am resolved to uhol P<sup>art</sup> > ^ d wMch I

it a
 gu
 ara
 nte
 e
 of

^
 the Government that
 to
 they wiU
 adopt
 a
 be is also
 ° ^ ^ attitude

nd
enumerate
d, 1* ort
them;
tho<sub>ugh</sub>,
poHcy, he
is careful

v t
o
be
to . not I
yet e a m
to comnut
himself.

